On July 5, 2022 Council approved updates to the Zoning and Development By-law. The updated by-law contains clearer regulations, more tables and diagrams, and introduces hyperlinks and accessibility features. Simplified and more consistent regulations will make them easier to understand and apply consistently.

New features include:

-  Enhanced document navigation and accessibility
-  Clear rules with explanatory diagrams
-  Consolidated rules
-  Document standards

In Fall 2018, we launched the Regulation Redesign project to simplify the City of Vancouver's land use regulations, policies and online tools to support the streamlining of permit processing.
